

Career Pathways Program

Become A Part of Our Mission To Advance The District's Built Environment

The DC Department of Buildings (DOB) has unveiled a career pathways program designed to provide architecture and engineering college seniors, graduates, and post-graduate level interns with valuable construction administration experience and potential full-time career prospects with DOB.

If you are or have majored in engineering, architecture, or construction management, we invite you to apply to join our career pathways program and take the next step in your professional career.

Participants will rotate between DOB departments throughout the program resulting in a wide exposure to different programs and subject matter, including permitting, inspections, plan review, zoning, technology, and customer service. The interdisciplinary nature of the program aligns with DOB's organizational values of investing in our people to produce innovative and skilled public servants.

Investing in the next generation is critical to the continued success of our agency, and the Career Pathways program is one step our agency is taking to ensure a strong path forward. At the end of the eight-week program, participants will be eligible to apply for a limited number of full-time positions with the agency.

To apply, please see the reverse for more information and instructions.

Applications are due February 14, 2023.
